JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, WEDNESDAY MORNING, MARCH 22, 1905.

WITNESSES GUARDED IN THE BEEF TRUST CASE AT CHICAGO

Secret Service Men Arrive and Extreme Care Taken to Prevent Inquiries as to the Investigation.

Chicago, March 21.—Four additional jurors were secured to day on the special federal grand jury which is to hear evidence against the alleged beef trust.

Fifteen secret service men have been brought to Chicago to guard witnesses who will appear and testify before the special grand jury which will begin its investigation of the transactions of the so called beef trust. So great is the desire of the federal officials to maintain strict secrecy in the investigation that every witness who testified will be closely guarded by one of the secret service men to prevent his being approached by newspapermen or agents of the packers. C. B. Morrison, who was to day appointed district attorney, declared to night that any person detected speaking to or inquiring the name of any witnesses will be liable to contempt of court.

Twenty men have qualified as grand jurors and to morrow morning four others will report. It is hoped by the federal officials that at least two of these men will be able to qualify and complete the list of jurors.

HONOR VISITORS.

Havana, March 21.—President Palma and his cabinet visited the United States warships in the harbor. They were received with honors on board the battleship Missouri. Several hundred lead-Cubans and Americans to night attended the reception at the residence of Minister Sauters in honor of the visiting officers. The occasion was a brilliant one. Parks and public buildings were illuminated to night in honor of American visitors and various bands gave concerts at which American tunes predominated. The mayor of Havana has ordered a half holiday in order that the city employees may have an opportunity to visit the ships.

CAN MAKE NO ACCOUNTING.

Boston, March 21.—The heirs of Charles F. Berry, trustee of ten estates, the total valuation of which will probably reach fully a million dollars, are under investigation. Herbert L. Baker, counsel for Berry, insists the only thing that can possibly be said against his client is that he may have made a poor investment of some of the funds entrusted to his charge. James D. Colt, appointed receiver of Berry's affairs, to day said he had been unable to find trace of any books that would give a detailed account of property entrusted to Berry's management.

ALTON LOAN.

Chicago, March 22.—A loan obtained by the Chicago & Alton railway for $5,000,000, secured by a supplemental mortgage given the Illinois Trust and Savings bank as security, was filed for record to day. The loan consists of a first mortgage, three per cent refunding fifty year gold bonds. The purpose of the loan is for providing funds for additional betterments of the road.

NO LONGER GUARDED.

Springfield, March 22.—For the first time since last September there are neither United States deputy marshals or state troops to guard the Letter mine at Zeigler. The state troops were removed last month and to day fifty United States deputy marshals who had been stationed there since last November, were withdrawn. The injunction which Judge Humphrey issued against the strikers interfering with the operation of the mines is still in force.

FOUND DEAD.

Madison, Wis., March 22.—Tonight, dead in the ice on Lake Mendota, Wilfred Bondi, aged 4 and Frazier McGowan, a year older, were found by Angus McGowan, father of Frazier. They had attempted to cross the lake with sleds. The ice gave way and although the water is only three feet deep, the children were unable to climb out. They died from exposure. The father followed the tracks of the sleds over the ice, found the boys' caps and then the two dead bodies.

THIS STATE LEGISLATURE.

Springfield, March 22.—The senate to day passed seven bills, among them being a bill creating a board of examining nurses and a bill revising the law in regard to habeas corpus. The bill provides that where a prisoner has been released on a writ of habeas corpus an appeal may be taken by the state and the application for a writ shall be entertained within the judicial circuit where the same has been issued.

BETHEA'S SUCCESSOR.

Washington, March 21.—The president has announced the appointment of Charles H. Morrison to be district attorney for the northern district of Illinois to succeed Bethea, who was promoted to be district judge.

AGITATION CONTINUES

Warsaw and Other Russian Towns the Scene of Renewed Violence.

Warsaw, March 22, 1 a. m.—A bomb thrown from the window of a house in Volak street at 9 o'clock last night exploded in the midst of a passing patrol composed of police and infantry. Six soldiers and two policemen were dangerously wounded. They were removed to the military hospital. The assailant escaped.

Lodz, March 21.—Workmen in a number of factories again struck to day. A police official was shot and severely wounded. His assailants escaped.

Mitau, Russia, March 21.—Agitators have succeeded in stopping all work on seventeen estates in the Grabinsky and Hazenpeth districts. Troops have been dispatched to the disturbed localities.

DECLARED A LOTTERY.

Columbus, March 21.—The Ohio supreme court handed down a decision to day holding that newspaper guessing contests on the votes cast at an election is a lottery and therefore prohibited by law.

GENERAL HAWLEY'S FUNERAL.

Hartford, Conn., March 21.—The funeral of Gen. Joseph R. Hawley was held here to day and brought together a notable gathering of men prominent in public and business life.

RAILROAD BILL.

St. Paul, Minn., March 21.—A bill exactly like the LaFollette railroad rate bill now pending before the Wisconsin legislature, was introduced in the house of the Minnesota legislature to day. It creates a new railroad and warehouse commission and gives the commission ample powers over the railroads of the state.

LODGING HOUSES CLOSED.

Chicago, March 21.—One hundred lodging houses were closed to day by order of Building Commissioner Williams, for not complying with provisions of the building ordinance.

MRS. STANFORD'S REMAINS.

San Francisco, March 21.—The remains of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford arrived here to day from Honolulu and were taken to Palo Alto on a special train.

SIGNED BY GOVERNOR FOLK.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 21.—Governor Folk to day signed the Godfrey bill making pool selling and bookmaking a felony in Missouri. The law becomes effective June 16. The racing season will open April 15th.

OFFICIAL VERSION

Of the Alleged Negotiations Between Reader and San Domingo.

New York, March 21.—An official version of the alleged negotiations between A. B. Reader and the Dominican government was given to day by Emilio C. Jubert, Dominican charge d'affaires at Washington, who is in this city. Jubert said: "I was in President Morales' office when Reader sent in his letter asking for an interview and pretending to be agent for the United States. The president had word sent to Reader that he could not grant an interview unless he was presented by Minister Dawson and told him if he had any business, to communicate either through the Dominican legation at Washington or the minister of foreign affairs. Later Reader sent a bundle of papers to Foreign Minister Sanchez, which were returned without notice being taken of them. It is absurd to say there were negotiations with Reader."

ARE DISAGREED.

Vienna, March 21.—In regard to the emperor's inflexible attitude concerning the military demands of the Hungarian opposition party, the executive committee of the leading Kossuth party decided to day to obstruct every cabinet excluding the principle of oppositional demand without consent of the opposition. This means practically a breach between the crown and parliament. Rumors are current the emperor is considering the appointment of a provisional cabinet, which will dissolve parliament and bring about new general elections.

SAD ACCIDENT.

Lancaster, Pa., March 22.—While descending a steep hill on the Lancaster & Southern railroad this afternoon a trolley car returning from the cemetery with a funeral party jumped the track and was wrecked. Not one of the twenty-one persons aboard escaped injury. Thos. Cummings, whose wife had just been buried, was so badly injured that he will die.

THE BROCKTON CALAMITY

FIFTY-FOUR BODIES RECOVERED.

Latest Report of the Mishap—250 Persons were in the Building at Work—Nigh to a Hundred Missing.

Brockton, Mass., March 21.—Searching parties worked throughout the night on ruins of the Grover factory, but only one body was recovered. The latter is believed to be that of the missing engineer, David Rockwell, who was wrongly reported rescued yesterday. Thus far fifty-four bodies have been taken from the ruins. Figures at hand early to day showed that about 200 persons who were at work in the factory when the explosion occurred have been accounted for and that between fifty and one hundred are missing. At the city hospitals to day it was reported all injured passed, a fairly comfortable night and were doing as well as could be expected.

VICTORY FOR McCASKRIN.

Springfield, March 21.—George W. McCaskrin, of Rock Island, was to day declared entitled to his seat by the house. The minority report favoring him was turned down, 71 to 51; but the majority report was also turned down by a vote of 53 to 45. Arnold gave notice for reconsideration of the vote to morrow.

CHURCH AND STATE QUESTION.

Paris, March 21.—The chamber of deputies to day began a three weeks' debate on the government's bill providing for separation of the church and state. A large crowd was present and intense interest was shown. The question has been pending for years and will probably be settled at the end of the debate.

LAW IS CONSTITUTIONAL.

Columbus, Ohio, March 21.—The supreme court to day decided that the criminal section of the Valentine anti-trust law is constitutional. The civil section has already been passed upon.

EXONERATED.

Denver, Colo., March 21.—The legislative bribery investigating committee agreed to day on a report exonerating James M. Herbert, vice president of the Colorado & Southern railway, and Daniel Sullivan, postmaster of Cripple Creek, from the charge made by Richard W. Morgan that they had given him a bribe to vote for Adams in the gubernatorial contest.

TREASURE FOUND.

Akron, Ohio, March 21.—While walking along the south shore of Slaker lake to day George Loebe stumbled upon a bill of metal, which was found to be silver. Further investigation being made by him and his brothers and they dug out twenty-six large billets averaging in weight 100 pounds. For many years the late Henry Wetmore told a story of how an encampment of Indians shortly before the battle of Tippecanoe left the vicinity of this lake at night and it is thought his silver was he treasure they had put in the water for safe keeping.

JULES VERNE ILL.

Paris, March 21.—A dispatch from Amiens states that Jules Verne, the venerable author, is dangerously sick.

DEATHS.

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, March 21.—Fred W. Faulkes, editor of the Gazette, died to day at Excelsior springs, Mo., of heart disease.

RESIGNED.

Quebec, March 21.—S. N. Parent, premier of the province of Quebec, has resigned. Lomer Gelin, son-in-law of the late count Honoré Mercier, will in all probability be asked to form a cabinet. Parent's resignation was directly due to dissensions in the liberal party of the province and also to poor health.

CRIME

Chicago Police Capture Man Implicated in the Krueger Murder—Daily Record

Chicago, March 21.—Four men, suspected of being implicated in the murder of Fritz Krueger, a saloonkeeper, early Sunday, were captured by the police to day. Frank Krueger, one of the captured men, was shot through the ear. Another of the gang who escaped is reported under arrest at Waukegan, is suffering from a bullet wound in the back.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

New York, March 21.—Andrew M. Griscorn, member of a well known Philadelphia family, who disappeared from Philadelphia several weeks ago and was supposed to be in Europe, committed suicide March 19th by jumping overboard at sea from the steamer Minnetonka. It is supposed he was temporarily unbalanced mentally.

DON'T WANT HIS MONEY

Protest Against Acceptance of a Gift from Rockefeller to a Mission Board.

Boston, March 21.—Congregational ministers representing Boston and various sections of New England, have forwarded to the American board of commissioners for foreign missions a protest against acceptance by the board of a gift of $100,000 from John D. Rockefeller, on the ground that the Standard Oil company, of which Rockefeller is the head, stands before the public under repeated and recent formidable indictment in specific terms for methods which are morally iniquitous and socially destructive.

LARGE ESTATE.

Bloomington, Ill., March 22.—This will of the late Abram Brokaw, it is announced leaves $100,000 cash and $50,000 in land to the Brokaw hospital of this city.

BILL MUST STAND

Judge Kohlhaas Refuses to Dissolve Injunctional Order Against C. M. Lals.

Chicago, March 21.—Judge Kohlhaas refused to day to dissolve the bill and injunctional orders against William E. Hyde, supreme archon, and Charles E. Piper, supreme scribe of the Royal legion, who are charged with misappropriating $34,000 in orders for money. The matter was called upon on an allegation by the attorney for Piper and Hyde that the court had been used by personal enemies to besmirch the characters of Piper and Hyde.

TWO OF CREW LOST.

Halifax, N. S., March 21.—With the news that her fourth officer and carpenter has been lost during a tempestuous passage, the steamer Sarmathian arrived to day after being eighteen days out from Glasgow.

AFFIRMS HIS STATEMENT.

San Francisco, March 21.—President Jordan of the Stanford university to day reiterated his previous statement that he was firmly of the opinion that Mrs. Stanford's death was due to natural causes and not to the effects of poison. He said that he or three hours before Mrs. Stanford took bicarbonate of soda on the night of her death, Miss Berner had taken a dose from the same bottle and that no harm had resulted. This fact was not brought out at the inquest, presumably because Miss Berner had not been closely questioned. Miss Berner absolutely declined to discuss the case and the maid, Miss Hunt, was equally reticent.

ADD BROCKTON

Satisfied that there was no chance of recovering additional bodies from the ruin of the shoe factory, the search was abandoned at 11 o'clock to night after twenty-seven hours constant toil. A revision of the list, as given out by the police to night, was: Bodies recovered, 55; identified, 1; missing, 45; reported as escaped, 283. It now seems probable that but 14 bodies will be buried with their identity positively established.

IN SERIOUS DANGER.

Pittsburg, March 22.—Pittsburg is threatened with one of the worst floods in years. To night about fifty miles above Pittsburg the Monongahela is rising at the rate of eight inches an hour and at the harbor here gauges show a rise of nearly three inches per hour. Already a number of mills have shut down. From three to five feet of water is expected up the valley. A total of 20,000 men are likely to be idle to morrow. Hundreds of houses in Allegheny on the south side and in McKeesport and other suburbs are surrounded by two to eight feet of water, the occupants living in second stories. In some places the water has entered upper rooms and homes are being abandoned. No fatalities have been reported.

PARDONED BY GOVERNOR.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 22.—Governor Folk to day pardoned James L. West, convicted of holding up a train on the Missouri Pacific railroad near Sedalia and sentenced to ten years in the penitentiary in 1899. The pardon was issued on the request of the presiding judge at the trial, the prosecuting attorney and prominent citizens on the ground of extenuating circumstances.

A TEXAS TRAGEDY.

St. Petersburg, Texas March 22.—Thos. Haynes shot and mortally wounded Charles Morgan and instantly killed Roy Boss, then, returning home, told his wife what he had done, locked himself in a closet and shot himself dead. The cause of the tragedy is unknown.

COUGH SETTLED

ON HER LUNGS.

"My daughter had a terrible cough which settled on her lungs," says N. Jackson, of Danville, Ill. "We tried a great many remedies without relief, until we gave her Foley's Honey and Tar which cured her." Refuse substitutes. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

LINEVITCH HAS NEW POSITION

RUSSIANS SEEKING TO PROTECT THEMSELVES

Revised Estimates of Losses on Both Sides at the Battle of Mukden—Kurapatkin Given Second in Command

NEW HEADQUARTERS.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—Linevitch's headquarters have been established for the present at Chenchawatzin, situated at the crossing of the Rungari river, where he is directing the retreat of three armies and disposing of the fresh troops from the Fourth corps, which is just arriving from European Russia. The protection of the Rungari bridge is vital to the salvation of the army as the river is not fordable below Kirin and once the line of the river is passed and the bridge blown up Japanese pursuit will be effectively checked. At the same time the second army if falling back of the railroad while the first and third, with transports, are retreating along the Mandarin road to Kirin, destroying bridges and roads and denuding the country behind them, making it impossible for the Japanese to live in the immediate wake of the retreat without their own commissariat. The Japanese are advancing over the Grand Trade route, twenty miles west of the railroad.

WAR REPORTS.

Gunshupass, 108 miles north of Tie Pass, March 21.—Japanese losses are estimated at Russian headquarters to be 100,000. Some of the troops employed to cover the retreat from Mukden, which was badly demoralized, lost their way in the hills to the eastward and are only now rejoining their own divisions.

St. Petersburg, March 21.—A couple of brief telegrams from Linevitch, dated March 20, were given out to day. They merely say the troops continue to retreat northward and that he allowed the men to rest March 20; that he had inspected more new arrivals from Russia and had found the troops in excellent spirits.

Tokio, March 21.—Revised figures of the Japanese losses at the battle of Mukden place the number at 50,000. Revised estimates of Russian losses from commencement of the battle of Mukden and ending with the fighting at Tie Pass, place the total at 175,000 killed wounded or captured.

KUROPAKIN LEAVES.

Harbin, March 21, 3 a. m.—At the departure southward of Kurapatkin thousands of civilians and soldiers gathered at the station and gave him a great ovation. As the train started soldiers rushed forward in a surging crowd and grasped the hand rail of the general's car, throwing their fur caps in the air and running some distance with the car. The scene made a deep impression upon Kurapatkin, down whose face tears streamed. Removing his cap he saluted again and again and stood bareheaded on the platform of the car as long as the train was in sight. Residents of Harbin are uneasy and many of them are departing. The Chinese are withdrawing their deposits from Chinese banks here.

St. Petersburg, March 21, a. m.—Kurapatkin has been appointed commander of the first Manchurian army. The appointment is gazetted in the "Official Messenger" to day.

St. Petersburg, March 22.—The Russian army in Manchuria is still to have the services of Kurapatkin, who is considered by many, in spite of his reverses, the best general and foremost strategist of the Russian army. Sinking all feeling of personal bitterness because of his suppression and all old time enmity between himself and Linevitch in a patriotic desire to be of service to the fatherland, Kurapatkin volunteered to remain in any capacity with the army which he had so long commanded. The tender has been accepted by the emperor and gracefully received by the new leader of the army. The change exactly reverses the old order of things, when Kurapatkin was the supreme leader and Linevitch directed the first army. Kurapatkin having paused on his homeward journey at Harbin started southward on the afternoon of March 20, amidst the most remarkable farewell from the residents of Harbin and the soldiers.

MAY SIEZE THE ISLAND.

Victoria, B. C., March 22.—Advices received by the steamer Hydades to day state that an expedition may be sent from Hok Kaido to capture the island of Saghalien regarding which the Japanese fell they were cheated when Russian forced the exchange for the Kuriles. The Japanese shared the fishing privileges, which amounted to a million and a half dollars a year with the Russians until recently and now very strong petitions are being made to the Japanese government to recapture the island. May 7th is the thirtieth anniversary of its occupation by Russians and demonstrations are made seeking to have it retaken by that date. It is probable that the expedition will be sent so incident with the movement against Vladivostok.

Japan is feeling keenly the financial drain because of the war and much poverty is reported. Baron Sone, minister of finance, in a speech at Tokio said the war expenditures had already reached five thousand million yens, yet, he said, the nation stands well the drain.

STATUS OF THE VENEZUELAN CRISIS.

No Notice Given to That Country of Action—U. S. Wants to Know if Castro will Arbitrate Questions.

Williamstad, March 21.—The Venezuelan government, it is announced from Caracas, has received a note from American Minister Bowen requiring an answer as to whether Venezuela will arbitrate the questions pending, saying in case of refusal the United States will free to take steps which may be necessary to secure justice. The charge de affairs of Netherlands has advised the Venezuelan government that Holland will use coercive measures, in view of the fact that she has been unable to secure release from imprisonment in Venezuela of five Dutch sailors, who have been illegally kept in prison for seven months.

SHARE IN CONTROL

Policy Holders of the Equitable Life Assurance Company to Have a Hand in its Affairs.

New York, March 21.—A plan for the gradual admission of policy holders of the Equitable Life Assurance society of the United States to a share in the control of its affairs was adopted by the directors to day. The plan provides for an amendment to the society's charter so that twenty-eight of its fifty-two directors shall, at the expiration of four years, have been elected by the policy holders. Under the new plan seven of the thirteen directors annually elected will be chosen by policy holders and six by the stockholders. The new method of control will thereafter become effective after four years.

The adoption of this plan is the outcome of agitation by President Alexander and others for mutualization of the society, which began several weeks ago. Alexander pointed out that the control of the society rested in $100,000 capital stock, the majority of which was under control of James H. Hyde, and that such power in the hands of one man was fraught with danger.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK A TRAIN.

Findlay, Ohio, March 22.—Unknown parties attempted to wreck the eastbound limited passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad three miles east of Ady to night. A large number of ties were found on the road near the end of a long grade. The obstruction was discovered by a farmer, who succeeded in stopping the train a few yards from the obstruction.

A SEVERE COLD FOR THREE MONTHS.

The following letter from A. J. Nushbaum, of Batesville, Ind., tells its own story: "I suffered for three months with a severe cold. A druggist prepared me some medicine, and a physician prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I then tried Foley's Honey and Tar, and eight doses cured me." Refuse substitutes. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer, City Drug Store.

BARK LOST.

Seattle, Wash., March 21.—The American barkentine Puskio, lumber laden from Bellingham to Port Natal, has been given up as lost by marine underwriters. The Puskio is sixty-five days overdue. She carried a crew of fifteen men, besides Capt. George Seely and his wife and daughter.

London, March 22.—Cable advices to Lloyd's received to day from Port Natal report the arrival there of the over-sea American barkentine Puskio, from Bellingham. The date on which she reached Port Natal is not stated. She was reported sixty-five days overdue and was given up for lost.

GRAND OPERA RECEIPTS.

Chicago, March 22.—The production of "Parsifal" by the Conrieds Metropolitan Opera company here to night broke the Auditorium theatre record for receipts. Four thousand and thirty-nine persons were present. The receipts were between $10,000 and $17,000.

SHOOTING TOURNAMENT.

Omaha, March 22.—In the Interstate Shooting tournament Lou Fisher, of Cincinnati, made the high amateur record of the day, breaking 188 targets. Will Herr, of Concordia, Kas., was high man with 195 among the professionals. hpCgdteWov Justolnvshrdleutolouuu

NO ULTIMATUM.

Paris, March 21.—The foreign office says the French minister at Caracas has not presented an ultimatum to Venezuela and no French warships have been sent to Venezuela. Officials here continue reports at tending to force France into a more aggressive and belligerent policy than anything France contemplates.

Washington, March 21.—Reports have been arriving here for some time that many people of Venezuela are penniless and in need of food. One foreign diplomat there recently reported that conditions were indescribable and that the strict censorship of everything that out prevented the world from knowing the actual condition of affairs. All foreigners are closely watched. No official information has reached here regarding the seizure of Italian coal mines, nor has the French embassy been advised further regarding the affairs of the French Cable company.

THE LAUNDRYMEN.

Bloomington, March 22.—The Illinois laundrymen to day elected J. W. Phillips of Danville, president, and W. J. Fitch of LaSalle, secretary and treasurer. The next meeting will be held at Decatur.

ACCUSED OF MURDER.

San Francisco, March 22.—Ellis Nelson, a member of the hospital corps at the navy yard at Mare Island, was arrested this afternoon by Sheriff Standley, Trinity county, Texas, on the charge of murder. He is accused with two of his brothers and Elmer and Percy Carlson of murdering Robert Alexander and wife, in Houston county, Texas, in the year of 1901.

MANY ENTRIES.

Chicago, March 21.—Nominations for an indoor charity meet of the Illinois Athletic club closed to night with 678 individual entries and thirty-five relay teams. This breaks the world's record in the number of entries for an event of this kind. Entries from Boston to Denver are in the list. The meet will be held at the Coliseum March 28.

ASSIGNED.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 21.—The Provident Investment company of this city made an assignment to day. Later a petition was filed in involuntary bankruptcy. Liabilities are said to be nearly $1,000,000, and the assets are very small.

STOPPED TRAFFIC.

Sheboygan, Wis., March 21.—Mayor Born to day stopped every street car in the city and the entire system is tied up. The council wanted to know why the city's order to have all cars equipped with fenders was not complied with and instructed the mayor to see that the street car company complied with the law and to arrest anyone who attempted to run cars not equipped with a fender.

Dainties For Her Dog.

Mrs. Patrick Campbell, who has been sick in a hospital in New York, had her pet dog installed with her on the bed in the hospital ward, and the attendants had strict instructions to provide him with warm cream for breakfast, part of a well done lamb chop for luncheon and breast of spring chicken with cream sauce for dinner. He also has a midnight supper, consisting, as a rule, of portions of a bird or game.

Crowded.

Jacob Riis told a story illustrating the frightful congestion of the east side, in New York. He had discovered four different families, he said, living, or trying to live, in a single room, each family being apportioned to a different corner. They got along all right even at that," said Mr. Riis, "until one of the families took a boarder."

CALLED HOME

DR. LLOYD W. BROWN PASSED AWAY IN DECATUR TUESDAY

Was Prominently Identified With Farming, Financial and Business Interests of This Community for Many Years

STRIKING INCIDENTS IN THE STORY OF HIS LIFE—WAS A GOOD MAN

Decatur Review: Dr. Lloyd W. Brown, father of Mrs. Everett J. Brown, died at the home of Dr. Everett J. Brown in Decatur at exactly 11 o'clock Tuesday morning. He had been ill for about a month. The last ten days there had been no hope that he would recover. His illness began with the grip. It developed into pneumonia and that was the cause of his death.

Dr. Lloyd Brown was a member of the M. E. church all his life. He took an interest in the work of the church and for many years was among the most generous of its supporters.

Dr. Brown is survived by three children and their families. The children are William Barr Brown and Edward Warfield Brown, both of Jacksonville, and Mrs. Everett J. Brown, of Decatur. Dr. Brown made his home with his daughter in Decatur. There are several grandchildren.

Dr. Lloyd Brown was a member of the Country club in Decatur, joining that society for the golf privileges it afforded him. He played a few games of golf.

The burial of Dr. Lloyd Brown will be at Island Grove, about sixteen miles east of Jacksonville. There is a private cemetery there in which rest his wife and children who died years ago, also some neighbors.

HONORABLE CAREER.

Dr. Lloyd W. Brown was a man who had a long, varied, honorable and in some respects a remarkable career. He had the friendship of every man who knew him at all intimately and thousands who knew him only by reputation and sight had a good word to say for him.

He was born at Cynthiana, Ky., Feb. 22, 1823. His father was Col. William Brown, a lawyer who went to Kentucky from Virginia. The father was in the state legislature and was also a member of congress; he was a man in comfortable circumstances. He was a good lawyer, something that runs in the family.

The father died when Lloyd was a young man. The mother and Lloyd Brown then moved to Jacksonville in this state. There were older children who had gone to Jacksonville, and the mother followed them after the death of her husband. They went to Jacksonville in the 30's.

Lloyd Brown attended McKendree college at Lebanon, in this state, where he got the degree of bachelor of arts. After that he attended the Baltimore Medical college, where he graduated. He made the trip to Baltimore and return by stage coach and boat.

On Sept. 17, 1847, at Lexington, Ky., he married Rebecca C. Warfield of that town. She died in 1882 in Jacksonville.

BUYS FIRST LAND.

After his marriage Dr. Lloyd Brown bought a farm of about 200 acres sixteen miles east of Jacksonville and there settled down to the practice of medicine. He followed that industriously for about ten years and was a very successful doctor in that day. Any of the older people on the east side of Morgan county and the west side of Sangre mon county fifteen years ago would speak of Dr. Brown as the supreme authority in everything medical. Of course he never made any such claim, but his patients lived and they sang his praises ever afterward.

That part of the state was then much better settled than was this. Dr. Brown prospered in his practice. He bought more land as he got more means, and after ten years of practice he had so much land to look after that he began to withdraw from medicine. A doctor can not quit in a day or a year, and perhaps it took Dr. Brown several years more to get entirely out of the practice of medicine.

After several years more in that neighborhood he had 4,000 acres of land. It was as good land as there is in the world, the best that is to be found in the garden spot. He left the farm in 1872 and went to Jacksonville to get the educational advantages of that town for his children. He went into the banking business, buying a major interest in the Central Illinois Banking and Savings association. He was president of that bank for over twenty years.

IN DECATUR SINCE 1891.

A daughter, Rebecca Brown, married Dr. Everett J. Brown of Decatur. That led Dr. Brown to come to Decatur, and probably he has called this city his home since 1891. From 1891 to 1895 he spent the greater part of his time in Jacksonville, being held there by business, but he spent Sundays in Decatur. From 1895 to his death he made Decatur his home, spending nearly all of his time here.

Dr. Brown was never a candidate for a political office, though he held many positions of trust. He was trustee of several state institutions at Jacksonville, and also was trustee for Illinois college and for the Illinois Woman's college.

LEADER AMONG DEMOCRATS.

Dr. Lloyd Brown was a Democrat and was one of the men who helped to make the glorious days of the party. There are other Democrats in the Brown family and they have been an honor to the party, though it is characteristic of all of them not to seek office. The party was a big affair in Morgan county, especially in the older days, and the Browns were among the foremost of the men that gave it stamina and standing.

A STUDENT.

Dr. Lloyd Brown was a great student all his life. He was a member of the Literary union at Jacksonville, the western branch of the Concord School of Philosophy. He was not only a member of that union, but also a prominent one. For many years that union was the most literary body to be found in the west.

Dr. Brown was a student of the classics until his last illness. He had a book knowledge of Latin, Greek and French. He had a fine general library, and besides kept up in the study of medicine. This interest in medicine was marked in his later years, and he kept abreast with the latest advances in that science. He was a great reader and gave many hours every day to his library.

VISIT TO LINCOLN.

When the civil war came there were many men who remained Democrats, and Dr. Brown was one of these. There is a little family history to illustrate this.

When that war broke out there was in Kentucky a Henry M. Warfield, a boy. He joined the confederate army and went into Indiana and Ohio with Morgan's raiders. He, with others, was captured and was held for a time at Indianapolis, and later taken to Camp Douglas at Chicago as a prisoner. He was then 17 years old. The young fellow, with others, tunneled out of that prison. The wife of Dr. Brown was young Warfield's sister. Dr. Brown wrote the story in Decatur in 1888 and sent it to Henry Warfieldson of the Courier-Journal, after having heard him eulogize Lincoln, just as another case to illustrate the kindness of the great Lincoln. The story is taken in substance as Dr. Brown wrote it for Warfieldson.

GIVES UP FLESH AND BLOOD.

When Mrs. Warfield, mother of Mrs. Brown, died in Kentucky, Harry, as they called him, was a little fellow. The last request of Harry's mother was that Mrs. Brown should always have a care for the little brother, the youngest of the family.

Well, the boy got out of Douglas camp, went to the C. & A. station in Chicago and bought a ticket to Springfield. He walked from Springfield to the Brown farm, about sixteen miles to the west. He reached the Brown home at midnight, snow on the ground, and he was very thin and cold. He entered the house as he called out, "Sister, oh, sister."

Harry Warfield told his story. In the morning Dr. Brown took Harry to Jacksonville and gave him over to the provost marshal. Then Dr. Brown went to Washington to secure the parole of the lad.

AS HE TOLD IT.

Here is the way Dr. Brown told the rest of the story to Henry Warfieldson:

"Without delay I was on the way to Washington to ask that he be paroled and put in my custody during the war. Reaching the capital city Saturday morning, I called during the day on the members of congress from Illinois and Kentucky, who, hearing my mission, said it is hopeless, and they could give me no help, as it would be impossible to get one of John Morgan's men paroled. Said Brutus Clay, 'I have relatives in prison with Harry Warfield for whom I can do nothing.'"

"Monday morning at 9 o'clock by prearrangement, accompanied by Senator Browning, I met President Lincoln in his office in the white house, stated to him my relation to the boy prisoner, Harry N. Warfield, the circumstances of his escape, presence at my country home and return to prison and, handing him an envelope containing the official statements of my action in the matter, asked that the boy be paroled and put in my custody during the war."

"Will he take the oath?" inquired the president.

"I answered, 'he will not—his sense of honor forbids, and, knowing the purpose of his motives, however much he may be in error, I would not have him forswear himself, but he is as loyal to me as I am to my country.'"

"Gravely replied Mr. Lincoln, 'I must let him at the risk of a while.'"

"Mr. President," I said, "is there nothing due to me? In a supreme crisis I have put my country above the holy ties of family and blood—grant my petition and this boy will be bound to my home with the bonds of affection more securely than he can be held by the walls and guards of a military prison."

LINCOLN WRITES.

"With thoughtful deliberation, taking a pen, he wrote upon the envelope containing the papers I had given him, and then handing it to me, said with emphasis, 'Take that to Mr. Stanton.' It was an order that Harry be paroled and placed in my custody during the war."

Of course the boy was released at once. Near the conclusion of his letter to Henry Warfieldson, Dr. Brown writes:

"In the passing years Harry and his sister have joined their mother beyond the river—in the land of eternal peace. This letter is written in a winter night and, looking out upon the whitened earth, again I hear

"The rapid footfalls in the crusted snow And midnight heart cry of long years ago."

HOW HE DID IT.

How did Dr. Brown get the release of that boy? Congressmen and senators told him his mission was hopeless, and at first Lincoln was disposed to take that view.

"But is there nothing due to me?" asked Dr. Brown.

Lincoln knew the doctor, knew the kind of a man he was. Lincoln knew all the people in that part of the country and knew what Dr. Brown's neighbors had to say of him as a man. The doctor was a Democrat, but Lincoln knew him also as a man. The order for Harry's release was written. It was fortunate for Dr. Brown that in Lincoln he found another man, a whole man. It was man to man, and Harry was released and sent to his sister, and in the passing years the two went to their mother.

SAVED GOOD NAME.

Probably it is Thomas Carlyle who speaks of a man who was "bigger than anything that could happen to him." That would fit Dr. Lloyd Brown, as was appreciated by all who knew the man and reverses that he met life in life.

He left the farm and went to Jacksonville in 1872. He bought a controlling interest in a bank in that town, the Central Illinois Banking and Savings association. He was made president of the bank and continued in that position for twenty years or more.

Mr. Brown did not give the management of the bank a great deal of his time, for he had other large interests and had to trust the bank largely to the judgment of others. The bank got on a heavy line of bad credits and in 1893 it failed. Dr. Brown did not realize the serious situation of the bank until a year or two before the collapse. Then he gave it all his time and did everything that he could do to make it weather the storm that was coming. Some upon whom he depended made bad moves at the wrong time and then there was a crash. A receiver was named for the bank, something that Dr. Brown hoped to avoid.

GAVE UP ALL THE HAD.

It was then Dr. Brown showed the metal that was in him. The crash had come and the only thought that entered his mind was to turn over everything he had in the world for the benefit of the creditors. He put into the assets his 4,000 acres of land, his home in Jacksonville, in fact everything he had in the world.

The result was that there was a bank failing that made a record in the payment of depositors. They got 97 cents on the dollar, and this after paying the costs of the receivership, which amounted to more than $100,000. Dr. Brown hoped to avoid the receiver, that he might save for creditors and himself that $100,000. He could not do it, and then he did all that was in his power, surrendered everything he had.

Yet when it was all done and over he was the same man he had always been. He lost half a million dollars at that time, property that now is worth more money than that, all that he had, and yet it did not break the spirit of the man.

He never thought that he did a great thing in surrendering all his property. Once in conversation with the writer, he remarked:

"That was the only thing to do; it would have to be done again, of course, so there is nothing to regret."

He went on with his books, took an interest in the affairs of the world, never murmured a complaint. He lost a half million dollars, all he had, but he was bigger than that, bigger than anything that could happen to him. You might talk to the man often without learning from him that he had ever suffered a severe reverse.

He was Virginia and Kentucky stock, the best and gifted that ever came out of that part of the world.

GUARANTEES TO CURE DRUNKENNESS

We never guarantee a remedy unless we know it possesses real merit. We strongly recommend Orrine as a cure for drunkenness, for we are positive that it stops the craving for alcoholic stimulants.

Orrine No. 1 is a secret remedy and can be given in tea, coffee, soup, milk or food, without the slightest knowledge of the patient, as it is perfect colorless, tasteless and harmless. Orrine No. 2 is the pill form, for those desiring to be cured. Either form $1.00 per package, mailed sealed. All correspondence treated with the greatest confidence. Write the Orrine company, Inc., Washington, D. C., for free book on "Drunkenness," mailed in plain envelope.

We have exclusive sale in this city and are perfectly satisfied that the company is reliable and will refund the money if they fail to cure the craving for liquor. Armstrong & Armstrong, Jacksonville, Ill.

The Misery of Piles

Thousands know it and thousands daily submit, through their ignorance, to the torture of the knife.

They are ignorant of the fact that there is an internal remedy that will positively and painlessly cure.

Dr. Perrin's Pile Specific

The Internal Remedy strikes at the prime causes of piles—indigestion, constipation of the liver and constipation. These causes are removed and removed for good. Get a bottle today and see how well it proves the truth of this statement.

For dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, biliousness, catarrh of the stomach and kindred ailments it is the greatest remedy that has ever yet benefited mankind.

When these troubles are taken care of and cured, Piles will be a thing of the past. Dr. Perrin Medical Co., Helena, Mont.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everybody's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes," "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Latest Food Product

Comes in Tablet Form and Replaces to the Blood and Nerves What is Worn Out and Wasted Away.

In this way it builds up and repairs all manner of weaknesses, and enables one to throw off most of the ails of life. This preparation, known as Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Food, overcomes and cures not only such common ails as nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia, sleeplessness, nervous irritability, general debility, etc., but even such serious conditions as profound blood poverty, neurasthenia, paresis, dementia, locomotor ataxia, which have hitherto resisted all drug medication. It is not a cure, but a stimulating and only temporary relief, but it is a food that feeds the depraved blood and starving brain and nerve cells, and in a natural manner restores them to structural integrity and perfection of function. To convince you that it is really a wonderful food cure, its makers, The Dr. Chase Co., Philadelphia, Pa., ask you to weigh yourself before taking it. Price 50 cents a box, five boxes, enough to give it a fair trial, $2.00. Book free. Sold by LEE PALCOOT, Druggist.

A BARREL OF SATISFACTION

We know of nothing that would be as satisfactory and as good an investment as a 196-lb. barrel of

Hercules Flour

Buying this standard flour by the barrel not only saves trouble and expense, but insures better cooking results, as the flour will have more time to season than we can give it. You know this flour as to quality, and also that we guarantee it.

We suggest that you have your grocer send a barrel of it to your kitchen.

UNCLE JOSH SPRUCEBY.

A big company in an enjoyable comedy drama, an operatic orchestra of ten pieces, a brass band in a novel street parade, makes a magnet that will no doubt pack the opera house to the doors on next Thursday night. "Uncle Josh Spruceby" makes his bow on that occasion and the jolly old New Englander will afford an evening of fun and amusement. The play is on the order of "Shore Acres" and "The Old Homestead," with many specialties and the sensational saw mill scene is an exciting climax. "Uncle Josh" was always a welcome favorite at high prices and will be doubly so at the remarkable low ones at which he appears this season.

Fire Insurance

We have several large amounts of money on hand for local loans.
We are now writing a fine line of all kinds of bonds, anything from a preacher to a mayor or alderman.

All kinds of fire, lightning or tornado insurance on other buildings, stocks or rolling stock. Don't forget us.

We are sole agents for cotton and corn lands in the Great Mississippi Delta, the richest farming lands in the world. These lands have raised in price from two to ten dollars an acre in seven years and are still advancing. There is no reason why they should not rise in value within the next ten years.

The finest investment for small buyers in the world. Better than all kinds of stocks, mining stocks and something that we are not afraid to place our reputation behind. Put your money in and forget it. Wake up and find that you have a fortune. No man or woman can make a mistake in buying southern lands.

The new railroads and canals have opened this country within the last ten years and that is the reason why we are coming to the front. We will take any number of people down at any time, but prefer to take them down on Tuesdays and Thursdays of each month on account of reduced fare. If we sell you, there will never be any price coming. You can't go wrong.

The Republican city convention has met and acted. Comment on the result seems almost superfluous. The people, the great tribunal before whom all public men must be tried, have spoken and in no uncertain manner. Mr. Davis has received an indorsement of which any man might well be proud. He will later on have something himself to say and meanwhile he will have the satisfaction of knowing that the people believe in him. Mr. Stewart was honored for the good work he had already done and the same may truthfully be said of Mr. Morrissey. Mr. Russell has more than once served the city well and was invited to take his former position without opposition. The Republicans have named a first class ticket and the Journal feels confident the people will indorse it at the polls.

FIRST INAUGURATION BALL.

"It was a little after dark when the coaches began to arrive at the hotel," writes Gaillard Hunt in the Century Magazine, telling of the first inauguration ball. That affair took place on the evening of Saturday, March 4, 1809, at Long's hotel in Washington, in celebration of the accession to the presidency of James Madison. "Some were fine vehicles, with proud black coachmen and footmen on the box, wearing liveries, adorned with large gilt buttons bearing the crests of the families to whom the servants belonged; but many of the guests reached the ball in sorry hacks hired at great expense, for a few of the senators and representatives set up establishments of their own. Daniel Carroll arrived with his wife in a coach drawn by four black mules. There were more men than women at the ball, for Washington was to a great extent a man's city. Being to many only a temporary abode, and offering but temporary accommodations, men coming from a distance did not bring their families.

"The 400 people who entered in the long room at Long's hotel represented all that was most brilliant in the society of the new capital. The ball opened promptly at 7 o'clock and soon afterward the band played 'Jefferson's March' and he who up to now that day had been president entered the room accompanied by his private secretary, Mr. Coles. 'Am I too early?' said Mr. Jefferson to a friend. 'You must tell me how to behave, for it is more than forty years since I have been to a ball.' A few minutes later the diplomatic corps arrived in full uniform. Presently the band struck up 'Madison's March' there was a hush in the ball room chatter, and his party entered. Mrs. Madison going first on the arm of one of the managers of the ball and the president following, escorted Mrs. Madison's sister, Mrs. Cutts. "Next to Mrs. Madison the most important person in at the ball in the eyes of the guests was Thomas Jefferson. In contrast to the wibegone looks of the president, his ruddy countenance fairly beamed with happiness. Some one said to him, 'You look so happy and satisfied, Mr. Jefferson, and Mr. Madison looks so serious.' 'There's good reason,' replied Mr. Jefferson. 'I have not the burden off my shoulders while he has now got it on his.' Mr. Jefferson did not remain more than two hours and left before supper. The rooms became more and more crowded and the heat intolerable and as the sashes of the windows would not come down panes of glass were broken to let in the air.

"Immediately after supper the president's party left, and then, the rooms being less crowded, dancing really began and quadrilles, reels and other country dances held sway until 12 o'clock, when, as Sunday morning had come, the fiddles stopped, conches and hacks were called and the first inauguration ball came to an end."

FOR THE CHILDREN

Game of Dutch Crumbo. Divide the company into two equal parts, one-half leaving the room. The remaining players should then select a word which will have to be guessed by those outside the door. When the word has been chosen—say, for instance, the word "will"—the party outside the room are told that the word they are to guess rhymes with "till." A consultation then takes place, and they may think that the word is "ill." The company then enter and begin to act the word "ill," but without speaking a word. The audience, when they recognize the word that is being performed, will immediately hiss, and the actors then retire and think of another word. Thus the game goes on until the right word is hit upon, when the company who have remained in the room clap their hands. The audience then changes places with the actors.

THE KISS
...OF LIFE

(Original.)
The members of the household stood about my bed waiting for my death. Not brothers, sisters, father, mother, for these were all dead. My aunt stood at the foot of the bed. My Cousin Eugenia, to whom I was engaged to be married, sat weeping near a window, her face buried in her handkerchief. Laura, whom my mother had left to my care when a little girl of but ten years old and for whom I had provided ever since, stood in the background, crowded away from the bed by the others, and I could not see her face. Laura was now twenty and by my death would be left without a home or support. I had provided for her, but had not been fully satisfied with the new will in which I had made the provision and had kept it locked where it would not be found. The old will left everything to Eugenia.

The doctor came and put his hand on my heart and after leaving it there a few minutes said in a softly modulated voice:

"It is all over."
My cousin Tom turned and with bowed head walked out of the room, slowly at first, but more rapidly as he neared the door, and I could hear him going downstairs with a springy step. Eugenia rose and cast a frightened glance my way. I expected to see in her face indications of a blighted life. I was astonished to discover a look of relief. Aunt Winifred went to her, put her arm around her, Eugenia's head full on her mother's shoulder, and they passed out of the chamber.

One by one those who had been with me in my last moments left me. Laura stood by a window with her back to me. She waited till the last person had departed, then turned. On her face was genuine grief. She had concealed it in presence of the others, but now that they were gone she gave full vent to it. Coming to me, she knelt by my bed, put her face down into her hands and sobbed as if her heart would break. But hearing a step without she rose, brushed away her tears and began to busy herself about the room, gliding noiselessly here and there while the doctor, who had forgotten his satchel, came in, put away his medical paraphernalia and went away.

Was I dead?
I didn't believe I was. I had often heard of the comatose condition in which a person may linger for a long while and concluded that mine was such a case. I was certainly paralyzed. Had I not been propped up with pillows I should not have seen what I did.

During the night I heard a faint laugh in a distant chamber. I recognized it at once, for I had long loved it. It was Eugenia's laugh. I heard a sob in the hall, and in a few moments Laura came in. Softly approaching the bed, she stood looking down at me.

Presently she seemed to notice something in my face—probably a life-like tinge. At any rate, she touched my cheek. She appeared to be disappointed and took her hand away, but not before it had stirred my dormant pulse. Then she bent down and imprinted a kiss upon my lips.

That kiss was like new fuel to a flickering fire. I could feel my heart begin to beat—slowly at first, but quickening every moment. Laura must have noticed the change, for she hastened out of the room, and presently my aunt and my cousin Tom came hurrying in and looked at me.

"Nonsense!" said Tom, but with a look full of fear that I might live. "It's that stupid Laura's fancy," said my aunt.

I hoped to hear more, but after a hasty glance they left the room. Laura came back and stood peering down into my face. I gave a faint sigh. Quick as a flash she put her hand to my heart and felt it beating. Seizing my hand, she clasped it spasmodically, then ran to the door and called over her shoulder: "Get the doctor, quick!"

When the doctor came the sun was shining in at my window, and there is nothing more exciting than his rays. Laura had started life anew; the sun gave it strength. The doctor declared that I still lived, but after deliberation decided not to give me any remedy, though he ordered a tank of oxygen for me to breathe. The household again gathered in the room, my fiancée approaching me with a partly concealed dread or disappointment in her face. They crowded about my bed, and Laura, as before, was crowded out. Then, when sure I lived, they went away again.

The time came when I was perfectly recovered. I broke my engagement with Eugenia and turned the rest of them out of the house. When they were all gone I sent for Laura. She came into my study wondering. I had two wills in my hand. I gave her one to read. It left all my possessions to my late fiancée. When Laura had read it, I handed her the other, executed that morning. It left everything to her.

"What does this mean?" she asked, a color mounting to her cheek. "Why am I to have all this property?"

"You won't."

"How?"

"By a kiss."

"What kiss?" The color in her cheek deepened.

"The kiss that restored me to life."

She turned away, but I went up behind her and, drawing her face around, kissed her.

"You gave me life: I give you fortune. If you will take me with it, it is yours now."

T. ADOLPH SAUNDERS.

NATURE'S INVENTIONS.

There is probably no human invention which nature has not already worked out beforehand for the convenience of some of her creatures. Take, for instance, the hypodermic syringe, which was invented only the other day and was heralded with a flourish of trumpets. Its exact counterpart is found in the sting of the scorpion, almost the earliest creature of the rocks. The electric light is a great boon, but it is not a new thing. The deep sea lines of the Challenger brought up fish which, swimming in ocean darkness 3,000 fathoms below, have a row of lamps fitted along each side to light them in the pursuit of food. There is a spider which makes a balloon and knows how to manage it perfectly. And one of the builders of great lighthouses confesses that he got his most valuable suggestion from the bole of a tree.

Iron Ring From Human Blood.

"Iron in the blood" expresses no doubt a chemical fact as well as a figure of speech, but probably not one in a thousand even among chemists ever saw ferrum sanguinis materialized to visible metal. This feat, however, has been performed by M. Barruel, head of the chemical laboratories of Paris. M. Barruel, who has in his time practiced much phlebotomy on the human subject, has systematically extracted chemically the ferrum from the other constituents. This he transformed into minute globules or "pearls" of iron. At last the idea occurred to him to have them all welded together, and the result is an iron ring made from human blood, which he wears on his finger.—London Globe.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS ANNIVERSARY

Beneficiary Order Celebrated Decade of Existence With Appropriate Program of Exercises.

The tenth anniversary of the organization of the Royal Neighbors of America as a beneficiary order was celebrated by Star Camp No. 171 Tuesday night, when they joined with Duncan Grove Camp No. 122 and Jacksonville Camp No. 912, M. W. A., and the Junior Woodmen in a most social in Ocean hall. Over 400 persons participated in the delightful occasion, which will be long remembered as one of unusual pleasure. The early hours of the evening were occupied with a literary and musical program which was heard with the closest attention and appreciation. Mrs. Moll Armstrong acted as chairman, and delivered the address of welcome to the members of the Woodmen organizations. A response was given in a happy vein by Deputy Head Counsel D. H. Griggs, of the 20th district. The following program was given:

Musical—Catherine and Edward Welsenberg.
Recitation—Mrs. T. A. Ebrey.
Musical—Miss Eunice Harvey.
Song—Marlo and Lola Ornellas.
Song—Walter Vieira.
Musical—Paul Franks.
Musical—Miss Marlin.
Musical—Misses Devlin and Sweeney.
Musical—Miss Ethel Kimball, of the School for the Blind.
Song—Eugene Martin of the School for the Blind.

The closing number was an excellent drill by the team of Star camp in uniform. The remainder of the evening was spent socially, and refreshments were served. During the serving of the refreshments a musical program was given by Victor Coats of the Illinois School for the Blind. George Muehlhausen, of the East State street baker, presented the camp with a beautifully decorated cake in the shape of a heart, the emblem of the organization, bearing the inscription, Star Camp No. 171, R. N. A. Later in the evening the cake was raffled off at ten cents per chance, $10 being realized from the sale of tickets. The holder of the lucky number of Mrs. Joseph Vieira, of Hooker street. Dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Mrs. Nellie Harvey, Mrs. Mary Taylor and Mrs. Lou Hoover were on the committee in charge of the arrangements for the occasion.

The R. N. A. is a very prosperous order, having grown during its ten years of existence as a beneficiary organization to a membership of 30,000. The local camp is a strong one.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The fourth annual indoor meet for the silver loving cup, now held by the Y. M. C. A., will be held Monday evening, March 27, at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. Six events will be contested and much interest is being aroused by both teams—Y. M. C. A. and Illinois college. The first meet Illinois college won, the second was a tie; third, Y. M. C. A. won, and this one decides the final ownership of the cup. The young men are training hard to be in the best possible condition for winning. Some other features will be given during the evening.

Next Sunday will be the eighty-seventh anniversary of the famous hymn writer, Fanny Crosby, and a fitting service will be held among the Young Men's Christian associations throughout the United States. The local association are going to observe the day by having a special song service and many of the leading local singers will be heard. Some eight of her most noted songs are to be sung.

Sunday, April 2, James L. Loar, state president of the Epworth league, will deliver his illustrated lecture on "Mormonism." Mr. Loar spent six years in Utah, so is thoroughly conversant with the customs and manners of that people.

REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTION

A HARMONIOUS GATHERING OF THE PEOPLE'S REPRESENTATIVES

Mayor John R. Davis Grandly Indorsed and Other Men Good and True Nominated With Him

The Republican city convention met Tuesday night in the circuit court room and all available space outside the railing was densely packed with interested spectators. The best of feeling prevailed and the order was good, while there was an absence of anything which savored of machine or gag rule, all being free to express themselves as they saw fit and all enthusiastic for the nominees chosen by the delegates. The convention was called to order by City Central Committeeman John J. Reeve, who requested S. W. Nichols to read the call. Matthew Minter was chosen temporary chairman, W. L. Fay, secretary and George E. Sybrant assistant secretary, and later the temporary organization was made permanent.

On taking the chair Mr. Minter said in part:

"This is really more like a ratification meeting than a convention and there seems to be no need of voting. The community wants to indorse the present administration and should do so after the splendid city government we have had the past four years. At no time has the city been so well managed as during the past four years. The streets were never so well cleaned and lighted and having been a member of the city council myself and chairman of the police committee I can say the place has been better controlled than ever before. Certain persons have seen fit to have a grand jury for the purpose of bringing in indictments for offenses any one of which could have been tried before a justice of the peace, and yet the county must pay a large bill, but I predict an overwhelming defeat for the persons who are moving in this matter and that Mr. Davis will be proved clear. (Applause.) I have known him for many years and have always found him upright and just. You all have parents and some of you have children—how would you feel toward any one who would have a grand jury summoned for the purpose of blasting their characters? I do not blame the grand jury, but the promoters of the scheme." (Applause.)

The delegations were then called and each body was authorized to fill vacancies in the number.

Nominations for mayor being in order Hon. James H. Danskin came forward and said in part: "I esteem it an honor and privilege to perform this pleasant duty, though there are others to whom it might have been more properly assigned. It is an honor to name to night for the office of mayor a man who four years ago broke the record in his majority and two years ago did the same thing and if history repeats itself he will again beat his last record. Heretofore he had to contend for the nomination, but now the party is a unit for him and election day will show a larger majority than ever. (Applause.) I mean to give a reason for the great confidence which has been shown in his honor and integrity. (Applause.) He was born here and in this place attended school and when a young man went to work and by faithful industry and economy with good management he secured a good fortune long before he was elected to an office. His friends have shown confidence in him in other ways. A great secret society has made him a director of its orphans."

The first ballot stood: Scott, 10 in the First and 3 in the Fourth; Stewart, 20 in the Second and 17 in the Fourth; McDougall, 18 in the Third and one in the Fourth.

The second ballot stood: Scott, 10 in the First and 5 in the Fourth; Stewart, 20 in the Second and 16 in the Fourth; McDougall, 18 in the Third.

The third ballot stood: Scott, 15 in the First and 3 in the Fourth; Stewart, 1 in the First, 20 in the Second and 18 in the Fourth; McDougall, 18 in the Third; and Mr. Stewart was declared the nominee. He came forward and thanked the convention for the honor and promised to make the best possible clerk if elected and to do all he could for the party.

For attorney W. M. Morrissey was named by George L. Merrill and was chosen by acclamation.

For treasurer Andrew Russell was named by M. L. Hildreth and was chosen by acclamation.

Each thanked the convention in a short address, Mr. Russell remarking that the orator of the family had been left at home, though she would have been pleased to be present.

J. J. Reeve moved that William Farnish be a member of the city central committee at large, to represent the colored people of the city. Carried.

C. G. Rutledge moved that the city central committee be empowered to fill any vacancies that may occur on the ticket. Carried.

The members of the city central committee were then announced and the convention adjourned.

home; the governor has made him a trustee of one of the greatest state institutions; he has been chairman of the party's county central committee and twice has been chief magistrate of the city. A well known pastor said that this is one of the cleanest, best lighted and policed cities he ever saw. (Applause.) His neighbors of both parties honor him and almost to a man will vote for him. Why is this? He stands indicted a dozen times. The geologists tell us there was a stone age and an iron age and I think we are now in the grafters' age. Missouri has produced a governor who has fearlessly gone after the grafters and all over the land there are would be little folks who make great pretensions in their love for peace and reform, but they have stolen the livory of heaven to serve themselves in. (Applause.) Mr. Davis has been mayor four years. Why have the instigators of the grand jury investigation waited until the regular jury was discharged? Death loves a shining mark and some people like to rise on the ruins of others. There is nothing for his friends to do but to nominate him and that's what we are here for. I feel certain he will have his own party with him and many more. Let us stand together and accomplish all we can for the party." (Applause.)

Mr. Davis was loudly called for and came forward, where he was received with applause long and loud. He said: "Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of this convention: I desire to express to you and to the people of Jacksonville, whom you represent in convention assembled, my heartfelt thanks for this unanimous re-nomination for the office of mayor of the city of Jacksonville for the third time. Words can hardly express to you my appreciation of your actions here this evening. I thank you for the confidence you have placed in me and I want to assure you that if elected, and I believe I will be, I shall do everything in my power to promote the best interests of Jacksonville and will try to help you make this city a model city."

"I have served you to the very best of my ability during the past four years. I am human the same as you gentlemen, and I have made mistakes and lots of them. I do not claim to be perfect. But my mistakes have been of the head and not of the heart."

"With my experience during the past four years and with a good working city council many things can be accomplished that will be of great benefit to the city of Jacksonville. I ask that during the next two years, if elected, if you at any time have any suggestions to make for the best interests of our city, that you come to us with them. If you do not approve of our actions at any time, come and tell us. You will always be welcome at the city hall and I assure you that you will be treated courteously. Do not stand around and criticize. First come to those in authority and lay your complaint before them. Then if you have weighed your complaint carefully and it is not adjusted, you then have a right to criticize."

"Again, gentlemen of this convention. I want to thank you one and all for this nomination and to say to you that I shall do everything in my power to be honestly elected. "I realize you have other business to transact here this evening and do not care to listen to any long speech from me, but I will some time in the near future be glad to discuss with you the future of our city." (Loud applause.)

Nominations for city clerk being in order, John J. Reeve named S. B. Stewart; L. A. Craig named O. E. McDougall, and John Cherry announced the name of George W. Scott.

The first ballot stood: Scott, 10 in the First and 3 in the Fourth; Stewart, 20 in the Second and 17 in the Fourth; McDougall, 18 in the Third and one in the Fourth.

The second ballot stood: Scott, 10 in the First and 5 in the Fourth; Stewart, 20 in the Second and 16 in the Fourth; McDougall, 18 in the Third.

The third ballot stood: Scott, 15 in the First and 3 in the Fourth; Stewart, 1 in the First, 20 in the Second and 18 in the Fourth; McDougall, 18 in the Third; and Mr. Stewart was declared the nominee. STORK TIME to most women is a term of anxiety, serious thought and sweet anticipation. With the cessation of pain necessary to childbirth, there comes calm, sleep and recuperation.

MOTHER'S FRIEND

does diminish the pain accompanying maternity. With its aid mothers can do bring healthy, sweet disposition and ideal babies into the world.

Morning sickness, sore breasts and excruciating pains caused by the gradually expanding organs, are relieved by this penetrating and relaxing liniment.

Among the manifold aids to childbirth Mother's Friend has grown in popularity and gained a prestige among rich women as well as poor; it is found and welcomed in the mansion as well as in the cabin.

By lessening the mother's agony of mind and diminishing pain a beautiful influence is wrought upon the child, and instead of peevish, ill-tempered and sickly forms you have healthy, laughing humanity, retaining a blessing ever to you and its country.

All Druggists sell Mother's Friend at $1.00. Write for our free Book "Mother's Friend" THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

DELIGHTFUL CONCERT

Jeffries' Band Pleased Another Large Audience With Fine Program—Soloists Received With Favor.

The Jeffries' Concert Band appeared at the Orange last evening in the third of their 1905 series of recitals before a crowded house. The performance of the band was supplemented by three of Jacksonville's most popular vocalists, Miss Phoebe Jefferson Kreider, Miss Helen Gertrude Shuff and Miss Mary Alice Huntley, who contributed in a large measure to the success of the evening's entertainment.

The band numbers were as usual received with sincere and enthusiastic applause, almost every number being given a hearty encore, to which the organization generously responded. The descriptive piece entitled "A Trip to Coney Island," was given in the inimitable style which has made the band such a popular organization, and was perhaps the most appreciated number on the program. The more classical numbers were given in an artistic manner, which never failed to gain the appreciation of the audience.

Miss Kreider was heard with pleasure in the "Spring Song" of Well, and "The You Forget," both of which were given with the perfection and finish which marks the true artist. The talented vocalist was accorded an enthusiastic encore each time, to which she graciously responded. Miss Laura Williamson of the College of Music served admirably in the difficult role of accompanist.

Misses Shuff and Huntley appeared in a duet from Norma, "Deh! Con te," (Bellini), a selection admirably suited to their voices, which blended in perfect harmony, with a pleasing effect. They were also accorded an enthusiastic encore.

The program was as follows:
March—"The Heart of Rome" E. Brooks
Overture—"Pique Dame" von Suppe
"Spring Song" Well
Miss Kreider.

Tone Poem—"Sunbeams and Shadows" Kelsner
Descriptive—"A Trip to Coney Island" Moses-Tobani

Synopsis—Rush to the boat, "All aboard!" Life on the ocean wave; Italian band playing on the steamer; jubilee singers, "All ashore!" A merry go round, passing a "free and easy"—ejecting an intruder; the little German band struggling with the "Blue Danube" waltz—entering West Brighton hotel, the greatest living comet is heard; a thunder storm—the clouds break and sunshine follows. Arrival at Brighton Beach, where Damroch's orchestra is heard; boarding the Marine railroad, train arrives at Manhattan Beach, just in time to hear Sousa's band perform the Anvil Chorus; Signal for Paine's fireworks and shooting of skyrockets, then a grand rush for the home bound train.

How the Lake Vanished.

There used to be a curious lake on the top of the Volcano de Agua, in Guatemala, 14,000 feet above the level of the sea. It was not fed by springs nor by rivers, but was caused by accumulations of snow and rain—in fact, was an immense reservoir. It lasted for centuries. Then one day the sides of the lake gave way, and down the waters rolled, dealing death and destruction and digging a great barranca, or ravine, in the mountain side, which is still visible.

ONLY CIGAR IN ITS CLASS

Armstrong and Armstrong New or Saw Cigar Before That Equaled Chico for Same Money.

While there are many cigars that are just as good as the Wadsworth Bros' Chico, it is in reality in a class by itself, for no other as good sells for 5c. Cigars that equal it sell for 10c and more.

In asking Armstrong & Armstrong, who have the local agency for the Wadsworth Bros' Chico, how this could be done, they said that it was owing to the cutting out the middleman. They buy the Chico direct from the factory in Binghamton, and while it cost them more than any other 5c cigar it, their case, yet they are glad to sell it, for it makes new friends and customers for their cigar department.

Anyone who enjoys a clear Havana smoke, whose taste is cultivated so that he knows a good cigar when he smokes it, should try a Wadsworth Bros' Chico. It's in the blue ribbon class, and all alone.

MEET WITH ACCIDENT.
Max Webster son of Superintendent D. E. Webster, of West Lafayette avenue, met with an accident while wrestling Tuesday afternoon that severely injured one of his limbs. Dr. Carl E. Black was called and at first it was feared that one of the small bones of the member was broken. The young man suffered considerable pain, but from a careful examination it developed that the injury was only a strain and while it will be a week or more before the patient can walk, the accident does not portend serious consequences.

TWO HEADED CALF

A two headed calf was born on the farm of Thomas Fox near Sinclair Tuesday. The animal was born dead, but the body was well developed and the heads perfectly formed. Dr. Charles E. Scott, the veterinary surgeon, was called in the case and brought the monstrosity to his office in this city, where it will be on exhibition for several days.

THIRD WARD W. C. T. U.
The Third ward W. C. T. U. will meet at the residence of Mrs. Conrad on S. East street this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

CENTENARY REVIVAL.

The meeting Tuesday afternoon was well attended and was one of quiet power and spirit of hopefulness. The keynote of the meeting was victory of the saints.

The night congregation was deeply concerned and showed signs of rising faith, faith that brings victory. The sermon was preached by the pastor, who urged the necessity of repentance, which includes the forsaking of wickedness and seeking God with the heart. Then and not until then does prayer avail for forgiveness of sin. Without such precedent on the part of the sinner, prayer is an abomination to God. While God is near, full of compassion and love, forgiveness comes only to the soul after self-humiliation, the forsaking of the evil way and the turning to God. While these steps are not salvation they describe the attitude of the soul before the dawn of peace in the conscious soul. When that attitude obtains the outflow of divine love reaches the soul and a sense of pardon follows.

Rev. G. W. Flagg, at one time pastor of the church, will preach to night, he and Mrs. Flagg being guests to day of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Wilder.

The Russian drama "For Her Sake" at the Grand to night. Prices: 10, 20, 30 and 50 cents.
